About the cottages and surrounding area

2 Recently renovated French cottages retaining all the charm but improving comfort and convenience situated in Lassay-les-Châteaux, one of the "little cities of character" in Mayenne.

Lassay-les-Châteaux, as the name implies, has a castle and two nearby castle ruins. Close to the cottage by one of the lakes, is the Château which refused entry to Victor Hugo because he was too "scruffy". It is open to the public and well worth a visit.

In the main street is the Bar Victor Hugo, where the writer was eventually forced to spend the night! There you will also find a couple of restaurants, boulangeries, banks and a mini supermarket. On the edge of town is a larger supermarket with an impressive selection of wines.

The surrounding countryside offers beautiful walks and bike rides. An easy drive away is the medieval splendours of Fougères and Domfront, and pretty hill top villages. Day trips can be enjoyed to Mont St Michel and the Brittany coast, Rennes, Dinan, Rouen, the Loire valley, Bayeux, and the Normandy landing beaches. For the adventurous canoes can be hired in nearby Ambrières and there are swimming pools in Lassay and Bagnoles.
